

Are you a contractor looking for ways to increase your business and help your customers?

Become a participating Energy Upgrade California™ contractor.

Licensed contractors have the opportunity to transform the way households use energy through home energy improvements. Now is a great time to position your business as an energy responsible leader by becoming an Energy Upgrade California program participating contractor. Contractors must meet the following requirements:

- Be a California State Licensed Contractor
- Complete a program overview orientation and/or appropriate training
- Be BPI-certified
